Thomson Financial microsite build

The e33 team delivered a new microsite within days.

Thomson Financial is a premium supplier of financial information and services in European and global markets.

The company had recently undergone a re-branding, and the client needed to produce a public-facing microsite that closely followed the new corporate guidelines.

The e33 team interpreted the new corporate guidelines for online use and produced a clear user interface that enabled readers to easily find areas of interest.

Results

The team delivered the entire build - design, architecture and navigation, copy and source code - within five working days.

What the client says

" We are really thrilled with the work you have done."

- Laura Holdsworth, Marketing Communications Manager
