T-Mobile intranet re-branding

The e33 team cleaned up, re-branded and put online 60,000 PDF documents

T-Mobile is one of the world's top-three mobile providers and has about 67 million customers worldwide.

When One 2 One re-branded as T-Mobile, it needed to convert the documents held on the intranet and its 200 sub-sites.

The e33 team developed UNIX-scripted automation algorithms to ensure system-wide standardisation. Swift and efficient implementation kept costs down and minimised interruptions to users.

What the client says

"Each conversion undertaken by e33 has been completed reliably and smoothly."
